For information, please contact us. Parents can receive their benefit weeks at the same time or one after the other. Date modified: 2021-12-31 Julie and David are having a baby. To apply, follow the following procedure: Service Canada collects personal information entered into an employment insurance (EI) benefit claim to decide if you are eligible for EI benefits. This means that Alex can take up to 30 weeks of extended parental benefits to take care of their child. Make sure you have the following information to complete the application: the names and addresses of your employers in the last 52 weeks the dates you have been employed with each employer and the reasons why you are no longer employed with them your detailed explanation of the facts if you have left or been fired from any job in the last 52 weeks your employer Full postal address and your home address, if different your social insurance number (SIN) the SIN of any other parent if you plan to share benefits the surname at birth of 1 of your parents your banking information to register for direct deposit, including: the name of your financial institution your branch (transit) number your number your child's expected or actual date of birth The date on which your child was placed with you for adoption, and the full name and address of the agency administering the adoption If your child's actual date of birth is different from the expected date of birth entered on your application, you should let us know as soon as possible. Receiving a benefit statement does not mean that we have made a decision on your claim. Complete and submit your application online immediately. Each parent submit his application. A maximum of 15 weeks of benefits are available. Read the privacy statement. When you apply for maternity benefits, you may also apply for parental benefits. You cannot receive these benefits more than 17 weeks after the expiration date or date you gave what will happen next. You will need this code and your SIN to follow your application. You must provide them as soon as possible after submitting your EI application. You can: Call 1-800-206-7218 (TTY: 1-800-529-9742) Visit a Canada Centre Service Employers issue Employment Records (ROE) to provide information about your employment history. The remaining 5 weeks of Standard Benefit or 8 weeks of Extended Parental Benefit are available on a use it or lose it basis; if taken, they can only be taken by the other parent (s). You can start receiving parental benefits the week the child is born or placed with you for adoption. Sami and Alex are adopting a baby. If parents do not choose the same option, the choice of the first application received is used to determine the parental benefit option for all parents. If you don't complete the application at once, you can return to it later using the temporary password you will receive on startup. If sharing the benefits, each parent must choose the same option, standard or extended. If you are already familiar with the program: Start the application You can start receiving your maternity allowance as early as 12 weeks before your due date or your due date. By starting this application, you agree to the terms of the Privacy Policy. You can send the required documents after the application. The online application takes about 1 hour to complete. To check the status of your application, you can: Sign in to the MSCA Service Canada Contact If you are not registered with MSCA, you can create an account when you receive your benefits statement and access code. Electronic ROEs are sent directly to Service Canada by employers. This will save you time later.
